Review

WHAT WE COVERED LAST MEETING?

- Material theories: system level of analysis
- Realism:
 - Core principles.
 - The concept of Power.
 - Balance of Power Multipolarity before 1914.
- Neorealism:
 - Reductionist structural theory.
 - Security not power.
 - Anrachy.
 - Bipolar world (cold war).

Realism 2.0?

- Advanced version of classic realism.
- International system \rightarrow state behavior.
- Simplifying assumptions enhance structural framework.

▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ■ ●の00

• Parsimony - Accuracy.

Assumptions

- Anarchy and self-help.
- States primary actors in international politics.
- Maximize Security.
- Increase power only if no security risk.

The Sec	urity Dilemma

The means by which a state tries to increase its security decrease the security of others (Jervis 1978)

▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ □ のQで

- Pursuit of influence \rightarrow harms others' security.
- Why a dilemma?

Key Themes

- Conflict in anarchic system (Spiral model).
- Offensive defensive balance (and differentiation).

The Sec	urity Dilemma

▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ □ のQで

TRIGGERING INSECURITY

(1) Arms race

- Increase in arms makes rival less powerful.
- Incentives for rival to arm/balance.
- Offensive / Defensive increase.
- Signaling intentions ("greedy" behavior).
- Increase in force: size and types.

The Sec	urity Dilemma

TRIGGERING INSECURITY

(2) Incentives for expansion

- \bullet Insecure rival \rightarrow expand to compensate.
- Resources, strategic depth, secure borders.
- NATO enlargement into central and east Europe (Russian actions).

▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ □ のQで

RISKS FROM MISPERCEPTIONS

- Intentions and spiral escalation.
- Wrong interpretation of arms increases.

OFFENSIVE - DEFENSIVE BALANCE

Offense dominates \rightarrow higher risks for war:

- War is viewed as quick & profitable.
- Expansion is viewed as profitable.
- First strike and preemption.
- Example: Germany and WW1.

Limitati	ons and Challeng	res

Neorealism

- Abstract, ignores details.
- Less attention to 'lower-level' interactions.

o

• Survival \rightarrow not the only interest.

Security Dilemma

- Inconsistent logic uncertainty.
- Offensive realism.

Power 7	Transition Theory

BASICS

- $\bullet~\mbox{Focus} \rightarrow \mbox{strongest states and their interactions}.$
- Status-Quo and power concepts.
- Dominant state: sets order (political, economic, military, etc.).

▲ロ ▶ ▲周 ▶ ▲ 国 ▶ ▲ 国 ▶ ● の Q @

- Importance of control over rules of the system.
- Benefits from existing order.

Global interactions under PTT

- Structure: Hierarchy with several 'clusters' of states.
- Sources of dominant state: economic and military power.

▲ロ ▶ ▲周 ▶ ▲ 国 ▶ ▲ 国 ▶ ● の Q @

- Satisfied and Dissatisfied states.
- Relative power.
- War over control over 'rules of the game'.
- Unlike realism power is not enough!

USA - a global giant

- Setting the rules...
- Economic: Bretton Woods, GATT, WTO.
- Politics: democratic institutions, human rights.
- Military: NATO, UN-supported limited interventions.

Power T	ransition Theory	y

Conditions for War

- Dissatisfied nation and relative power.
- Costly war (potentially system altering).
- Rivals equal in power \rightarrow power transition.
- Realist BOP under the PTT view.
- Conditions that prevent war:
 - Preemptive attack by dominant power.
 - Rising power delays conflict until ready.

Empirical evidence

- Germany in WW2.
- UK US at the end of 19th century.
- Measures: alliance portfolio gaps, military expenditures.

The Cold war and beyond (Lemke 1997)

- The challenger (USSR) never achived parity.
- Soviet failure to sustain competition.
- USSR and the Internal growth stage
- Post cold-war peace: most states are satisfied.
- Dissatisfied but lack power (Russia, China) less so today.

Public v	views

Is Realism real? (Kertzer and McGraw 2012)

- Realist views predominant in academic and political circles (Realpolitik).
- Citizens and views of realist behavior inconsistent evidence.

▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ▲□▶ ■ ●の00

Challenge

- Public interpretation \rightarrow "folk realism".
- Potential mechanisms: uncertainty and fear.

The Microfoundations of folk realism - a belief?

• Information gaps \rightarrow prudent behavior.

Findings: Measures1 Measures2

- Realism and political orientation (ideology, nationalism, militarism).
- Irust social and international.
- Preference for conformity, social order and inequality.

Act as a Realist?

- Mechanisms of realist behavior.
- Experimental design (scenario: ethnic conflict).
- Uncertainty and Emotions.

Findings: Behavior

- Realism views and information.
- Interaction of folk realism and anger emotion.

Some details

- Course topic real world illustrations.
- Due date: October 2nd at midnight (eCampus assignments).
- By yourself!

Example: Power in IR

- Present main arguments, assumptions and implications for system structure.
- Real world realist behavior: South-China-Sea; Russia-Ukraine.
- Short discussion on each example how it illustrates theory?

Microfo	undations - Folk	Realism

What's more important to you?

Promoting human rights abroad/improving security at home (58.8%)

Upholding international law/protecting American corporations (33.9%)

Opening up trade with foreign countries/increasing American military might (19.4%)

Encouraging the spread of democracy abroad/restricting the flow of weapons of mass destruction (61.8%)

In your opinion, countries...

Are inherently cooperative/are inherently aggressive (41.2%)

Can often be persuaded by international organizations like the United Nations/can only be persuaded by the use of force (26.1%)

Should be able to trust other states/should never trust other states (13.9%)

Microfo	undations Folk	Realism

Should only use military force for defensive purposes/should be prepared to use military force for any purpose (33.3%) Should pay less attention to power and arms races/should pay less attention to treaties and institutions (15.2%)

In your opinion, war...

Usually occurs because different countries have different values/occurs because different countries have clashing interests (76.4%)

Can usually be avoided/is usually unavoidable (18.2%)

Tends to make problems worse/often fulfills a useful purpose (34.5%)

Should always be of last resort/is a legitimate way to settle disputes (6.1%)

Folk Re	alism Behavior

- 1. The Sunnis and Shi'as in Iraq (the Azeris and Armenians) have been fighting one another for many years. The United States should deploy more forces in Iraq (deploy forces) to help maintain a ceasefire between the two groups.
- 2. If Iraq becomes (Armenia and Azerbaijan become) more democratic, tensions between the Sunnis and Shi'as (Azeris and Armenians) will decrease.
- 3. The Kurds in the north of Iraq would like to declare independence from the rest of the country. (N/K declared independence from Azerbaijan in 1991, but has yet to have its independence recognized by any other state). The United States should take the first step in recognizing Kurdish (N/K's) independence, even though other countries might see this as interfering in domestic affairs.
- 4. Because the Sunnis and Shi'as (Azeris and Armenians) have been fighting for so long, it isn't worth it for the United States to pay such heavy costs to try to reach a settlement.
- 5. The conflict in Iraq (Azerbaijan) is likely to resolve itself over the next couple of years.
